

Improvement Plan

This activity provides your with an opportunity to think about the fundamental considerations for designing an improvement plan . Think of what you would like to evaluate (check your success indicators), and then, try to come up with tools through which you'd collect data for that specific indicator. In the third column you may list ways to improve your tool based on these results!

What to evaluate?

How to evaluate?

How to adress?

